

Booking form:

I,,
would like to attend the Introduction to On-Call Radiology Course at the Said Business School in Oxford on 28th-29th June 2010.

Hospital

Correspondence Address

.....

.....

Tel:

email:

Special dietary requirements

.....

I enclose a cheque made payable to
Oxford Radiology Courses for the course at £250

Please return this form to:
Sarah Mitchell
13 Coopers Green, Bicester, Oxon OX26 4XJ,
England

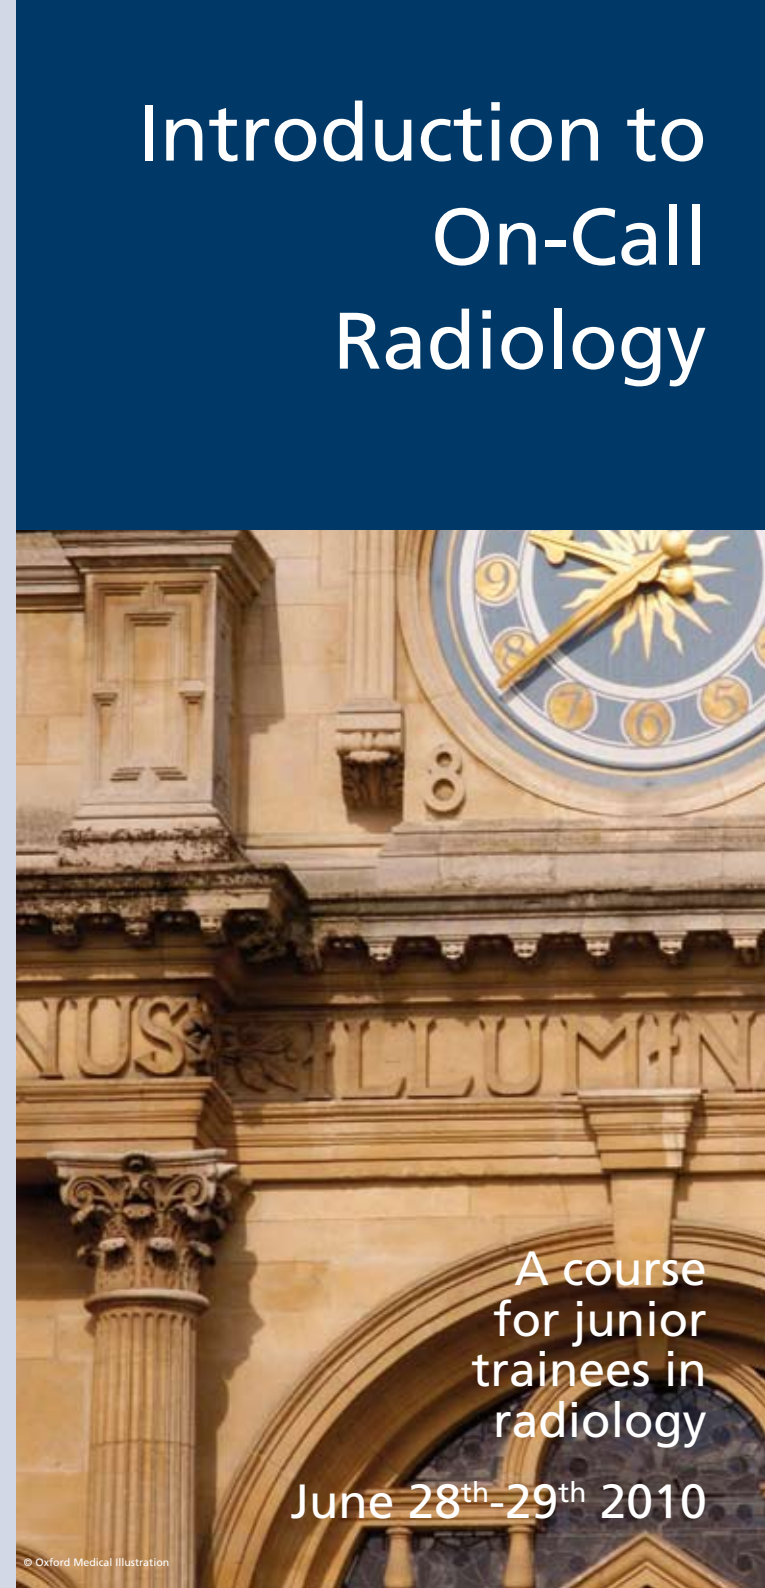

Enquiries to: oxradcourses@gmail.com

© Oxford Medical Illustration

Designed by Oxford Medical Illustration (01865) 220900

Ref: 1234.On-Call.Radiology

Introduction to On-Call Radiology

A course for junior trainees in radiology

June 28th-29th 2010

© Oxford Medical Illustration

This course has been set up with the following objectives in mind:

To provide a foundation for on-call radiology. Particular attention will be paid to CT of the brain, chest and abdomen. There will be a plenary session covering acute stroke imaging. In addition there will be sessions targeted at on-call MRI of the spine, plain films in trauma, and emergency ultrasound. Interactive on-call sessions will be included to emphasize the most common and most important emergencies. An emphasis on “must not miss” cases will be stressed.

Venue:

The Said Business School, Oxford.
(Next to the train station)

Lecturers:

Dr Niall Moore,
Consultant Radiologist, John Radcliffe Hospital

Dr James Teh,
Consultant Musculoskeletal Radiologist, Nuffield Orthopaedic Hospital

Dr Harpreet Hyare,
Consultant Radiologist, London

Dr Alexis Boscak,
University of Maryland, Baltimore, USA

Dr Jonathon Willatt,
Abdominal Imaging, University of Michigan, USA

A full programme of lecturers will be available at www.oxradcourses.com

Course Fee: £250

Accommodation:

There are many hotels and bed and breakfasts in Oxford.

Several of these are listed on the website www.oxradcourses.com

For more information contact:
oxradcourses@gmail.com